

The Medea of Euripides

By Euripides

TheClassics.us. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 18 pages. Dimensions: 9.7in. x 7.4in. x 0.0in. This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text. Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book (without typos) from the publisher. Not indexed. Not illustrated. 1894 edition. Excerpt: . . . Old nurse, for very near to the vestibule Of the bi-portaled mansion heard I the Groans within, nor am I glad of the suffering, Woman--her house is endeared to me. NURSK. No house is: for all this is vanished now Since Jason the bed woos of royaltys line; My mistress is wasting existence away Within her apartments, and taketh in heart No comfort from words of a friend. MEDEA. Alas! alas! Might lightning from heaven descend through my head! What profiteth me more the essence of life Alas, me! and might death releasen me from Hated existence! CHORUS. Strophe. Heardest, O Zeus, O earth, and O light, This sad song which hath drear distress Taught Medea For metrical purposes both meanings of azctViof have been used. What longing for dread resting-place Will eer, foolish wife, aid thee pass To deaths ultimate sure release Pray...

READ ONLINE
[3.51 MB]

Reviews

This is basically the very best publication i actually have go through until now. It really is loaded with knowledge and wisdom I realized this publication from my i and dad encouraged this publication to discover.

-- Bryana Klocko III

Merely no terms to explain. it was actually writtern quite properly and helpful. I realized this pdf from my dad and i suggested this ebook to discover.

-- Cletus Quigley