Reviews

This book may be worth purchasing. It typically fails to expense excessive. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Flavor Modification of Low-Grade Honey To determine the amount of bentonite³ required, the test described by Lothrop and Paine is used. To six 25 ml portions of a solids honey solution in test tubes are added 0.28, 0.15 and ml. Of the 5 bentonite suspension. The tubes are then shaken and let stand until coagulation is complete (usually 5 to 20 minutes). The correct amount of bentonite is indicated by the tube in which the supernatant liquid is clear with a minimum volume of precipitated material. The amount of bentonite required for a large batch may be calculated from the amount added to this tube. The number of ml. Added when multiplied by 7 gives the number of pounds of bentonite suspension to add per 100 pounds of honey.
