Paperback. Condition: New. 70 pages. We all have our allotted time to live. No matter how long, its a match-strike compared to the big picture. So live life to the fullest today, because you dont know if tomorrow will come. Take your adventures now. Dont be afraid - be encouraged by the shortness of life. Amidst all the luxury of the RMS Titanic, amidst all the tragedy and human errors, Im reminded of the fact that life is brief - surprise! Ive seen murals, Ive seen photographs of some of the victims, all the way from very young people on up. Ive seen a young boy in a suit and tie who looks to be about seven years old, sharp and clean. And there are older gentlemen, all the way up into what looks to be their 70s or 80s, and every range of dress and elegance in between. Theres high society. Theres first class, theres second class. . . And there is one very attractive, wholesome woman. . . who survives. . . If you saw the love story, Titanic, you know all this and more. One day you, too, will be history. All of us will be. We cant pick the exact moment. But perhaps we should consider that not one of the hundreds who transitioned that festive night died from old age. . . My advice is to make your contributions today. And yes, to board the adventure of the Titanic today, to live life to the max today, because you dont know if tomorrow will come. Anyway. Nobody can know. It couldve happened anywhere. . . . It could have happened another way. Anytime. The passing of the life of an individual. But if you dont live, love, and produce in the life moments you now...
