Excerpt from The Latter-Day Saints Millennial Star, Vol. 95: May 18, 1933 I am keenly aware of, and deeply grateful for, the great honour the people have bestowed upon me. I am also aware that a responsibility equally great comes with that honour. May I say that just now I am thinking more about the responsibility than about the honour. Should any of you have hopes about my work in this high office to which I am called, I trust I shall not too much disappoint you. If any of you have misgivings, I can only say that your misgivings can hardly be greater than my own. I am keenly conscious of my own deficiencies. I come late in life to a new work. But whatever shall be the outcome of my humble service, what ever shall overtake me, there Shall be yet abiding with all of us eternal truth, which is light and life, even life everlasting.
