Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from Third Annual Report of the Public Service Commission, Vol. 1: January, 1916; Reports and Orders The plan of organization under which the work of the Commission is carried on has, not, in general, been changed. Al though this plan has been indicated in previous reports, it will bear restatement, as the various departments have important functions and it is desirable that the people of the Common wealth should clearly understand what work they are equipped to undertake and how their services may be utilized. The Inspection Department is in charge of George W. Bishop. Besides Mr. Bishop, there are nine inspectors and four assistant inspectors. The duties of the department are Inspection varied and numerous. Primarily, its business is Department to keep informed as to the physical condition of the railroads and railways and to take such steps as are necessary to enforce the specific requirements of the statutes relative thereto and to protect the public safety in general. An allied duty is the investigation of all fatal and serious accidents and of all accidents caused by defective track or equipment or involving collisions of trains or cars, whether serious or not. Since the proper inspection of railroad bridges requires special technical knowledge, this work falls within the province of the Engineering Department and has for many years-been delegated to an engineer Specially employed for the purpose. More recently his duties have been extended to cover street railway bridges and the signal systems on both steam and electric roads, and an.
