Learning of all kinds had by this time made considerable progress in Scotland; and although the poetic muse is not to be courted by dint of application, she may be chastened and cultivated. Roman was the son of Colmain, or Colman, probably the Scottish missionary, who had his education at Hyona, and went over to convert the Northumbrians. 1 He was the best poet in the nation to which he belonged, and the most distinguished in the age in which he lived. 2 But whatever were the subjects on which he displayed his talents, none of his poetical works, so far as is known, are now extant....
