HARPER S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE, VOL. 42: DECEMBER, 1870 TO MAY, 1871 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)DOWNLOAD

Forgotten Books, 2018. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Harper s New Monthly Magazine, Vol. 42: December, 1870 to May, 1871 That doves might find a safe resort In the embrasures of every fort! But the people go even further than the poet. It is not in the nature of the American people to be content with the idleness Of any element of power. NO sooner was our late war ended and peace declared than, as will be remembered, the people demanded that the war forces should be utilized, not merely re duced. W ithout ceasing to love peace, or for getting to be grateful to the soldiers and sail ors who maintained the unity of the nation, the American people insisted that peace should not be a wholly idle season, and that the army and navy Should be employed, not merely in pre venting possible mischief, but in performing positive good. They would not wish a single veteran dismissed unwillingly - their deep sense of gratitude prohibits that; and, in spite of all that has been said and written by partisans for political effect, there is no authenticated in stance Of government neglect of its veteran soldiers and sailors. The people can not con sent to see a single navy - yard dismantled use lessly - their sense Of economy prohibits that; and all that has been published in the papers, all that has been said in Congress of reduction and economy, expresses simply the earnest de sire Of the people that in peace army and navy and armories and navy-yards shall be utilized. Very earnest at present is this demand with respect to the navy and the navy-yards and Stations. The latest national experience has demonstrated that, though...
