

Confessions of an Interest Group: The Catholic Church and Political Parties in Europe (Paperback)

By Carolyn M. Warner

Princeton University Press, United States, 2000. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Following World War II, the Catholic Church in Europe faced the challenge of establishing political influence with newly emerging democratic governments. The Church became, as Carolyn Warner pointedly argues, an interest group like any other, seeking to attain and solidify its influence by forming alliances with political parties. The author analyzes the Church's differing strategies in Italy, France, and Germany using microeconomic theories of the firm and historical institutionalism. She demonstrates how only a strategic perspective can explain the choice and longevity of the alliances in each case. In so doing, the author challenges earlier work that ignores the costs to interest groups and parties of sustaining or breaking their reciprocal links. Confessions of an Interest Group challenges the view of the Catholic Church as solely a moral force whose interests are seamlessly represented by the Christian Democratic parties. Blending theory, cultural narrative, and archival research, Warner demonstrates that the French Church's superficial and brief connection with a political party was directly related to its loss of political influence during the War. The Italian Church's power, on the other hand, remained stable...

READ ONLINE
[5.84 MB]

Reviews

Extremely helpful for all class of folks. I really could comprehend almost everything using this written e publication. You will not feel monotony at any time of the time (that's what catalogs are for about in the event you check with me).

-- Prof. Melyna Dooley V

Unquestionably, this is the greatest job by any author. It really is simplistic but shocks inside the fifty percent in the book. I am just pleased to inform you that here is the greatest book i actually have go through within my own existence and could be he greatest ebook for at any time.

-- Elva Kemmer