

A Hundred Wonders of the Modern World and of the Three Kingdoms of Nature: Described According to the Best and Latest Authorities and Illustrated by Numerous Engravings (Paperback)

By C. C. Clarke

Cambridge Library Collection, United Kingdom, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Sir Richard Phillips (1767-1840) was a London-born author and publisher of educational textbooks who used a vast array of pseudonyms, including that of Reverend C. C. Clarke. Phillips marketing techniques - the systematic borrowing of famous (living or deceased) authors names for his textbooks, along with the multiplication of easy to produce related educational products - were key to his success. No doubt meant as an accessible encyclopaedia, this 40th edition of 1834 - attributed to Phillips himself - is a surprisingly vast and heterogeneous survey, which compiles natural and man-made curiosities across the world. The Himalayas and Mont Blanc share a chapter with the Peak of Derbyshire; famous rivers lead to mysterious subterranean forests; and Stonehenge is closely followed by St Paul s cathedral. Halfway between reference book and textbook, this richly illustrated volume is a fascinating catalogue of the world s wonders as perceived in the early nineteenth century.
