Upon this first secular day of the new year you assume the great function thus assigned to you, and enter upon the performance of your important duties. Powers of government, delegated by the people of free States to chosen Representatives, whether Legislative, Judicial or Executive, are sacred trusts. The people who honor, by such proofs of confidence, those whom they select for employment in public functions, have a clear right to expect from them fidelity, zeal, and unremitting diligence in the promotion of the public good. Having confided, by election, the powers of government to citizens of their choice, they return to their respective avocations trusting confidently that all public interests and public rights will be diligently promoted and...
