Excerpt: .also cited by him as giving the smallest value of $2E$ (71 32) must be the richest in water or hydroxyl and poorest in fluorine of any topaz that has thus far been examined. The indices of refraction also show a progressive change along with the variations of $2E$ as may be seen by the following determinations, given for yellow light by different investigators. As hydroxyl replaces fluorine, therefore, the indices of refraction increase and the strength of the double refraction decreases, as shown by the values $7-a$ in the extremes: Thomas Range, Utah $y-a = 0.0104$ Minas Geraes, Brazil $y-a = 0.00811$ The crystallographic axes are also affected by the isomorphous replacement of fluorine by hydroxyl. The variation however is not very great and only exact determinations can be used for showing it. Mr. C. A. Ingersoll has kindly made for us some careful measurements on a crystal from the Thomas Range, Utah, which, next to the topaz from Zacatecas, contains the least water of any examined by us, and upon which the forms 0 (221) and $/$, (021) were well developed and gave beautiful reflections. Also on one from Brazil upon which very exact measurements could be obtained from the $/$ (021) faces only, the other forms, the striated prism and the pyramid u , (111) not being suitable for measurement. Utah. Measured. Measured. Calculated. $/a$, 021 A 021 = 87 19/ Oao, 221 A 221 = 105 10 105 W o A 0,...
