It is not possible to assign to Chemistry any definite birth-year, but so many remarkable discoveries were made in 1774 that we may, with good reason, date the foundation of modern chemical science from that period. It would be quite foreign to the object we have in view to give here any detailed account of the state of the science at the period referred to. We may mention, however, a few of the most important discoveries which made the year 1774 noted in the annals of Chemistry. The eminent Swedish chemist, Scheele, first isolated chlorine, calling it, in accordance with the accepted theories of the day, dephlogisticated muriatic acid. He also recognized baryta as a peculiar earth, and it henceforth took a place among the elementary substances. Scheele also published in this same year his masterly essay on Manganese. Lavoisier was...
