Excerpt from Fast-Day Sermon, Preached in the Good Hope Church, Lowndes County, Alabama, Thursday, June 13th, 1861 But further still are our people guilty. Walk down the streets of our large cities and even of our villages, and upon the lips of every large proportion of those you meet, the sacred name of God trembles irreverently; and even little children, following the example of those who should teach them reverence, use it only to add emphasis to their assertions! Sabbath after sabbath is prostituted to game making and sport and merriment at the will of a crowd, instead of being employed by them as a day of sacred rest and worship. The Sabbath rest of the fields is broken by the shrill whistle of the locomotive, while the rivers are agitated by the paddles of the steamboat. There are other sins which might be brought to view as cause for repentance, and which clamor loudly for reform. O people of the South wound no more your mother, upon whose bosom you have securely nestled; but bear her, now weeping and bleeding,...
