Nanette Hodge, United States, 2014. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 229 x 152 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Based on a true story, Mamas Drama takes place from 1929 to 2004. It shares the experiences of four generations as they move through the mama s baby, daddy s maybe condition, which occurs when the identity of the father is questionable. This story begins in Harriman, Tennessee when main character, Josephine Stewart, is almost 8 years old. Josephine loves and cherishes her daddy, Thomas Sr. Her Mama, Millie, reveals to her that Thomas is not her biological father, and that she is born from an extramarital affair Millie had with the mayor of the small town. This revelation turns Josephine s world upside down, and she struggles with feelings that her daddy will not love her the same. The Stewart family migrates to Columbus, Ohio in 1934. Three years later, Josephine meets and eventually marries the love of her life; an older man named George Price. Their marriage is challenged by extramarital affairs. There are nine Price children in George and Josephine s family, including children born as a result of Josephine s indiscretions. Josephine chooses to keep their fathers identities secret. Suzette, one of her daughters, feels she is a product of her mother s indiscretions, and seeks to find the truth about her biological father. Suzette s siblings taunt her about the identity of her father, and others tell her that she is not George s child. Suzette later determines to break the generational mama s baby, daddy s maybe condition. She marries and has a son, Devon, who becomes a single dad while in college. Mamas Drama is a universal story, and is realistic historical fiction at its best. Compelling and inspiring, it...
