Bibliogov, United States, 2013. Paperback. Book Condition: New. 246 x 189 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .In response to a congressional request, GAO reviewed the military services fiscal year (FY) 1988 budget requests for ammunition items and the Army s request for ammunition production base support. GAO noted that the budget request totalled $3.6 billion for ammunition items and $168.5 million for ammunition production facilities. GAO believes that the Army adequately justified its request for the ammunition production base; however, GAO estimated that the services inadequately justified $577.6 million of the $3.6 billion request for ammunition items. GAO found that the Army overstated its request by $320.9 million because: (1) eight developmental items will not be ready for procurement; (2) two items have overly optimistic production schedules; (3) four items have unresolved component problems; (4) two items have excessively long procurement lead times; (5) it will not need the total program quantity for two items in FY 1988; and (6) four items have larger quantities than needed. GAO found that the Navy overstated its $566.3 million for ammunition by $63.1 million due to: (1) production problems for three items; (2) prematurely programmed procurements; (3) overstated unit costs; (4) a possible replacement with lower cost, alternative components; and (5) items that exceed inventory requirements. GAO found that the Air Force overstated its $643.4 million request for ammunition by $189.1 million because: (1) it will not require certain item quantities to meet 1988 delivery schedules; and (2) lead times are excessive. GAO also found that the Marine Corps overstated its $410.9 million request for ammunition by $4.5 million because a new fuze will not be ready in time for procurement in FY 1988.
