

The Price Situation: January, 1937 (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By U S Bureau of Agricultural Economics

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from The Price Situation: January, 1937 Recent changes in market prices of farm commodities indicate that the general level of prices received by farmers made a substantial rise from mid December to mid-January. Advances occurred in prices of hogs, cattle, lambs, wheat, corn, oats, rice, butter, wool, and potatoes, With marked declines occurring only in the prices of poultry and eggs. World wheat prices continued to advance during December as a result of heavy purchases by European countries in order to build up stocks. Wheat prices in domestic markets advanced about the same as world prices. Strength in wheat prices during the next month will continue to depend largely on the aggressiveness of European buying. With the relatively close adjustment this season between world supplies and consumption, the newly harvested wheat crop from Argentina and Australia may be absorbed Without becoming much of a price depressing factor. The advances in feed grain prices since late October are largely explained by the comparatively rapid rate of disappearance of feed grains, a substantial increase in livestock prices, and an upward movement in wheat and...
