After supper they adjourned to the writing room and levied on the hotel stationery. Everyone found plenty to write home about and for half an hour the pens scratched diligently. It was Tom whose ideas were exhausted first. After addressing and sealing his letter and thumping a stamp on to the corner of the envelope he picked up a newspaper and tilted himself back in his chair under the light. Two minutes later the front legs of the chair hit the floor with a crash. The Sue won! cried Tom. The others frowned but failed to look up from their letters. I say, you chaps! called Tom more loudly. The Sue won! For gracious sake, Tommy, protested Bob, shut up! How do you think we re going to write letters when-- Oh, go ahead and write your old letters, grumbled Tom. I thought you d want to know how it came out, that s all. What s he talking about, Bob? Dan asked. I m telling you that the Sue won,...
