

The Bluejay and the Sparrow: (Large Print Edition) (Paperback)

By Paula Freda

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, United States, 2015. Paperback. Condition: New. Large type / large print edition. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Mark Carlson, a well-to-do Rep at a government patent office, tall, reserved, easy to look at, somewhat introverted, in his middle thirties and settled in his ways, likes order and tranquility, and considers the shelter and conformity of his colonial mansion indispensable. When his best friend, Jacques, is killed in a house-fire, Mark can do no less than to keep his promise and honor his friend's final request that he take on the responsibility of the orphaned daughter, Cybelle. Nine years later, a grown-up Cybelle, a feisty, petite, popcorn type character, declares her love. Mark is already aware of the attraction, and though he dares not admit it, even to himself, it is mutual, for Cybelle is everything buoyant he isn't, and very dear to his heart. His character, one to be admired, is shown in his silent comments to his deceased friend - Don't worry, Jacques, I won't take advantage of her vulnerability. She needs to be loved, and I'm the only one she can turn to...
