In personal character and social intercourse he had not the bitterness which might be supposed from the tone of his writings, but was one of the most kindly, genial, and courteous of men. He was thrice married. His first wife was a daughter of Dr. William Henry of Manchester, the eminent chemist, and his second a daughter of the Right Hon. James Wilson, founder of the Economist, and Indian finance minister. By his first wife he had a family of four sons and one daughter. He died in London, November, 15, 1881. Grey, Sir George, Baronet, G.C.B., statesman, was born at Gibraltar, May 11, 1799. He was the son of the first baronet, and the nephew of the second Earl Grey, the famous Reform minister....
