

Highway 23: The Unrepentant

By Patrick Carlin

iUniverse, Inc. Paperback. Condition: New. 358 pages. Dimensions: 8.8in. x 6.0in. x 0.9in. Its June 1952, two years into the Korean War. Eddie Flynn, a 20-year-old New Yorker stationed at an air force radar site in Michigan meets Joan Whitman at the annual Perch Festival in Tawas. Joan from St. Clair Shores is fighting back against her fathers attempts to push into the country club set. Her mother loves and understands her. Jill delights in thwarting Fills efforts to thrust boys from the proper social strata upon Joan. Bills current project is a Yalie due for a large inheritance on his 25th birthday. At her fathers request Joan had dated Roddy twice. She thinks hes a jerk and is not looking forward to receiving his frat pin at her 18th birthday party. Eddie is the answer to Joans dilemma. Eddie is a rhythm and blues fan who only wears his uniform off base if hes hitchhiking. With his ducktail haircut slathered in Dixie Peach hair pomade, wearing his Levis, a Pendleton shirt and black suede loafers he doesnt look like the average airman wear civvies. Eddie declared himself cool when he was ten years old. Joan and Eddie cruise through July...
