Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from War History In compliance with the request of the R. E. Lee Camp of Confederate Veterans, I give my personal recollection as to two matters which have recently engaged, to some extent, the public attention. First. It has been asserted that General Lee, a short time before the collapse of the Confederacy, advised the Confederate authorities that further resistance was useless, and that he recommended a cessation of hostilities upon the best terms that could be obtained. I am satisfied, from my own personal knowledge, that this is a mistake. A few days before the final adjournment of the Confederate Congress, on the 18th of March, 1865, I received a message from President Davis through Colonel Lubbock, a member of his staff, that he desired to see me on important business at his office. I responded at once, and upon my arrival I found Mr. Davis and General Lee in consultation. After an exchange of salutations, Mr. Davis said he had sent for me to request my opinion as to the willingness of the people...
