

Walking Targets: How Out Psychologized Classrooms Are Producing a Nation of Sitting Ducks (Paperback)

By B K Eakman

Createspace, United States, 2007. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Walking Targets exposes how the greatest coup of the millennium came off without firing a shot, wresting control from those still committed to the nation s founding principles and family values, by stigmatizing their inflexible and dogmatic children as mentally ill. Computer technologies popularly believed to be restricted to use in defense of our country have been redirected for use in tracking the opinions of schoolchildren from the earliest years, under the cover of educational and mental health testing. This includes psychographic surveys and data-mining techniques. In this anthology of columns and feature articles, Mrs. Eakman exposes the tactics of professional agitators-cum-educators; details the latest advances in microchip implants, computerized cross-matching, tracking and monitoring, and clarifies experts justifications for psychological profiling.

READ ONLINE
[3.32 MB]

Reviews

Complete information! Its such a excellent study. It is filled with knowledge and wisdom I realized this publication from my dad and i advised this publication to find out.

-- Geovanny Grimes

Thorough information! Its this kind of good read. Yes, it is perform, continue to an amazing and interesting literature. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

-- Loyal Grady