Excerpt from Compliments Lincoln Tea Company, Ft; Wayne, Indiana: Humorous and Pathetic Tales of Abraham Lincoln There is no work more important to posterity than perpetuating in literature the lives of great men. Written biography is a valuable acquisition of modern ages and was not known to the ancients. In every period of the world's history, however, the necessity of preserving the records of their great dead has been realized by the people even to the barbarian races and tribes. This fact has been evidenced by the archaeologists in their investigations among the mound builders, and unearthed cities. At buried Memphis monuments of stone were discovered, covered with hieroglyphics telling the stories of men who had achieved honor and glory in their distinctive spheres. In presenting to readers Lincoln s stories, there is a feeling of satisfaction that they will be well received. No man has lived in the history of this country who holds a more sacred place in the minds of the people than Honest Abe Lincoln, as he was familiarly known His steadfastness of purpose, clear discernment, and equity of judgment peculiarly fitted him for the high position of Chief Executive of this nation at a time when the seeds of disunionism were being scattered broadcast throughout the land. Like Moses, who delivered the Children of Israel from bondage, so Abraham Lincoln freed from the coercion of the white master the poor black slave, and kept intact the Union of this glorious Republic. Although Abraham Lincoln possessed many idiosyncrasies, none of them was more marked than his penchant for story telling. There is hardly an instance in even the most serious of his...
