Excerpt from Outline of a System of Public Schools for the City of Halifax: An Address Delivered Before the Board of School Commissioners, by the Superintendent of Education, January 22, 1866 Halifax? Has been asked of me a thousand times as I have, in private or in public, urged the importance of a free and liberal provision for the education of all. You may judge whether the answer which I have been forced to give has impelled or retarded the progress of the cause I have sought to advocate. The education of the Province cannot progress as it ought while the Capital is content to sit in darkness; though I rejoice to be able to say that many portions of the country present an educational equipment commensurate with the claims of this subject, and surpassing in every respect that existing in your midst. But I feel happy in saying, that, within a few months past, abundant proofs have been given that the great majority of the citizens deplore the educational history of this city, and are now looking anxiously to this Board to bring into operation a thorough and permanent system of schools at any necessary cost whatever. Scarcely a day passes but I receive from influential citizens expressions of anxious solicitude in this matter; the common fear being that the Board will rest short of a complete and modern system of school-accommodation and equipment. I have not the slightest hesitation in stating, that, from all I have been able to gather, the citizens will most cheerfully bear whatever expenditure is necessary, provided that the arrangements be thorough, ample, and complete. It is very apparent that if the provisions...
