Landscape, Process and Power: Re-evaluating Traditional Environmental Knowledge (Paperback)

By -

Berghahn Books, United Kingdom, 2012. Paperback. Condition: New. Reprint. Language: English . This book usually ship within 10-15 business days and we will endeavor to dispatch orders quicker than this where possible. Brand New Book. .presents an excellent overview of the study of traditional environmental knowledge (TEK) and the directions in which it has evolved in recent years. Individually but especially together, the contributors of this volume do a fine job at providing a contextualized and fluid understanding of TEK. I have no hesitation in recommending this volume not only to anyone wishing to catch up on recent developments in TEK research, but also as a useful teaching resource in a range of anthropology courses. JRAI This volume succeeds in its purpose to dislodge enduring western notions of TEK [traditional environmental knowledge] as static and to firmly center it within an analytical framework of landscape, process, and power. The critical perspectives of the authors of this book would prompt lively discussion in the classroom, and the books grounding in ethnographic detail and applications are of interest to both research academics and practitioners. Ethnobiology Letters In recent years, the field of study variously called local, indigenous or traditional environmental knowledge (TEK) has experienced a...
