Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Demand and Price Situation: August 1951 Vacation shutdowns were largely responsible for the 14 percent decline in nondurable goods production during July. Particularly affected were the textile and leather goods industries, although in both groups some of the decline may have been due to a weakened demand. Production of chemicals continued to rise while most other groups registered slight declines from the previous month. An incredibly great book with perfect and lucid answers. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. You will not sense monotony at whenever you want of the time (that's what catalogues are for relating to if you question me).
