Further, DODs past experience has suggested that top management has not had a proactive, consistent, and continuing role in integrating daily operations for achieving business transformation performance goals. It is imperative that major improvement initiatives have the direct, active support and involvement of the Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Defense to ensure that daily activities throughout the department remain focused on achieving shared, agencywide outcomes and success. While DOD leadership has demonstrated its commitment to reforming the departments business operations, the magnitude and nature of day-to-day demands placed on these leaders, given the current world events associated with fighting the war on terrorism, clearly affect the level of oversight, commitment, and involvement they can devote to the transformation efforts. Given the importance of DODs business transformation efforts, it is imperative that it receives the sustained leadership needed to improve the economy, efficiency, and effectiveness of DODs business operations. Based on our surveys of best practices of 27 world-class organizations, strong executive CFO and Chief Information Officer (CIO) leadership and centralized control over systems investments are essential to...

Completely essential study ebook. This is for all those who statte there was not a well worth reading. I realized this book from my dad and i recommended this publication to find out.

-- Jarrell Kovacek

The most effective publication i ever study. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. You wont sense monotony at whenever you want of your time (that's what catalogs are for concerning in the event you ask me).
