Not illustrated. 1905 Excerpt: .masonry, one over the Saugus Branch and one over the Western Division; a reinforced concrete arch with granite ashlar facing for culvert bridge; and the furnishing and depositing in place of 187,450 cubic yards of filling material. The progress of this work was so satisfactory that a proposal of the contractor to furnish, in addition to the work under the contract, about 12,000 cubic yards of loam, was accepted; 5,746 cubic yards were placed on the slopes and 5,002 cubic yards were placed in storage piles with manure, to make compost to be used for tree pits and planting spaces in the finished work. It was thought advisable that the work of constructing the masonry piers necessary for the parkway bridges over the Western Division and Saugus Branch of the Boston Maine Railroad should be let by the engineer of the railroad company, and done under his direct supervision, on account of the great care necessary to be taken and responsibility to be assumed in working in and about the railroad tracks. Therefore, plans and specifications were prepared by this department, and bids were received on Dec. 28, 1903, by the railroad company, and the contract awarded to T. Stuart Son Company, the lowest bidders. This work was done at the same time as the work of building the abutments, the same contractor having both contracts, and was completed on May 1, 1904. Plans and specifications have been prepared for the superstructure for the parkway bridges...
