

Why I am Not a Painter and Other Poems (Paperback)

By Frank O Hara

Carcanet Press Ltd, United Kingdom, 2003. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. Frank O Hara (1926-66) composed poems any time, any place , collaborating with and inspired by a circle of artists, musicians and poets, immersed in the creative life of New York. For O Hara, the city was a place of possibility, both disorientating and exciting, and his poems have an immediacy that draws its energies from the pace and rhythms of city life, and from the contemporary artforms of jazz, film and painting. It is this openness to experience that makes O Hara an indispensable poet of the imaginative experience of the modern city. Reviewing this new selection in the Guardian, Charles Bainbridge wrote: Frank O Hara is a wonderful poet - funny, moving, chatty, engaging, enthusiastic, risk-taking, elegiac, supremely urban - and anything that encourages people to read him is a good thing. His poems have a disarming intimacy, a kind spontaneous enthusiasm and his work proves, with tremendous elan and energy, that you don't have to adopt a solemn tone in order to write poetry of seriousness and purpose. As O Hara himself says of the nature of writing in the brilliantly...
