THE EXECUTIONER'S CURRENT

Knopf Publishing Group, Westminister, Maryland, U.S.A., 2002. Hard Cover. Condition: New. Dust Jacket Condition: New. First Edition. Moran (sociology, Mount Holyoke College) explores how the bitter rivalry between Edison and Westinghouse for the control of the emerging electrical power industry, and between direct and alternating current, provided the context to the invention of the electric chair and its adoption as a modern and humane means of killing people.
