Using Mixed Methods to Study Intersectionality in Higher Education: New Directions in Institutional Research

By IR (Institutional Research), Kimberly A. Griffin, Samuel D. Museus

John Wiley & Sons Inc. Paperback. Book Condition: new. BRAND NEW, Using Mixed Methods to Study Intersectionality in Higher Education: New Directions in Institutional Research, IR (Institutional Research), Kimberly A. Griffin, Samuel D. Museus, This volume offers institutional researchers several examples of the ways in which quantitative and qualitative methods can be integrated for a better grasp of how members of our educational communities understand and experience their environments on the basis of their multiple identities. The first two chapters provide context for the volume's theme with definitions and overview of the underpinnings of mixed methodology. Subsequent chapters illustrate the multiple ways in which qualitative and quantitative methods can be integrated to understand the complexity of identity and experiences of marginalized groups in the academy. Other chapters focus on students' experiences and demonstrate how mixed-methodology approaches were used to * explore college access among first-generation Asian Americans and Pacific Islanders * analyze racial ideology of white males with interview data driving analysis of longitudinal dataset * and research and assessment generating accurate understanding how of race and gender shape students' experiences within the campus The final chapter presents findings of a mixed-methods inquiry to challenge current conceptions about racial categorization...
