Discount this figure as you think proper. I am willing to discount it by 25, leaving 560 to return for next year. The entering class of high school graduates in September, 1922, was 447, of whom 340 are in the Regular Curricula and 107 are in Special Curricula. If we could take care of them, 1000 students would enter Indiana in September 1923. The housing problem of a larger attendance presents difficulties which can be solved only by more dormitories. Even with that problem settled we have next to face the classroom problem, the Training School problem, the assembly problem, the gymnasium problem, the library problem, and the heating problem. Indiana is crowded to capacity now. To grow, Indiana must expand in every direction. A new Training School of adequate size would give us twelve additional classrooms for normal school classes, - enough to take care of 500 additional students. A gymnasium is imperative. We now have more work in physical education than can be done on one floor in...
