

Passion Week in Rome Fifty Years Ago (Classic Reprint) (Paperback)

By Dr Philip Schaff

Forgotten Books, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand . Excerpt from Passion Week in Rome Fifty Years Ago In the evening I visited the small Church of Caravita, near the Collegio Romano, to witness the scourging scene, which is enacted three times a week during the whole of Lent, and takes place at seven o'clock. First, priests recited the story of the Passion. Then they put out all the lights and shut all the doors. A chorister boy went around offering whips, which consist of two pretty thick thongs. Then, in this mysterious darkness, in this unbroken silence, a priest went to the altar and delivered an impassioned but short sermon about Judas, painting him in dark colors, and declaring that his hearers were still worse than was the faithless disciple, and that they had often betrayed the Lord by thoughts and words. But continuing, he said so can and must it not continue. We must all drive out of our hearts this traitorous Judas spirit. Ye who are burdened with sins, drive out Judas! Thus he cried out in a loud voice, and at once all fell to whipping...

This publication will never be straightforward to get going on looking at but really fun to see. This can be for all those who statte that there had not been a worth looking at. You wont really feel monotony at at any moment of your own time (that's what catalogs are for about should you request me).
