Excerpt: . . . the BBA, the Plus Choice program, Medicare prescription drug coverage. The value of those hearings, like the value of our discussion today, depends on what we do in response. I hope this hearing signals our commitment to participate fully and on a bipartisan basis in Medicare and Medicaid decisionmaking that will be critical to the providers and beneficiaries we represent; and in keeping with the beneficiary-oriented goals of this hearing, I hope this committee perceives this years legislation not only as an opportunity to address inadequate reimbursement but as an opportunity to directly improve access and coverage for Medicare and Medicaid beneficiaries. Promoting telehealth in Medicare is just one of those issues, but it is important for several reasons. Not only can telehealth serve the best interests of Medicare beneficiaries, but Medicare coverage policy sets a precedent for private coverage. In his written testimony, Mr. Joseph Tracy from the University of Missouri makes a key observation. He said that telemedicine has not proven to be a vehicle for overutilization as some skeptics assumed it would be. Rather, it is serving as a vehicle for adequate utilization in medically underserved areas. He goes on to say that people living in these areas have as much right to Medicare benefits, obviously, as every other American. So Tracy has touched on a fundamental value in the Medicare program and the most compelling reason to support Medicare coverage for telehealth services, that Medicare is grounded in universality. The fundamental objective is to provide the same level of quality care to all beneficiaries, regardless of location, regardless of income, regardless of health status. In some areas of...
