Excerpt from The Fence Question in the Southern States as Related to General Husbandry and Sheep Raising: With the History of Fence Customs, and Laws Pertaining Thereto; And a View of the New Farm System of the South, as Shown in the Census of 1880 If an acre of land be worth Sixpence rental, before it is inclosed, it will be worth eightpence when it is inclosed. The Oppressions arising from the old military tenures were discontinued during the civil wars in the reign of Charles 1st. And in the time of the Commonwealth were entirely abolished in a strong movement of the landed gentlemen of England, by express statute under Charles II, (12, C. II. P. 26 and from that time English farm and rural life assumed permanent traits which extended from the mother country to all her colonies and dependencies. Up to that time there had existed in all parts of the kingdom, even in the vicinity of the large towns, vast areas of common and waste fields so incum bared by mixed tenures and customs that their cultivation was impossible....
