

The Big Yellow Box: A Young Child's Early Introduction to Journaling (Paperback)

By Merle J Roddy Hill

Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .THE BIG YELLOW BOX A Young Child's Early Introduction to Journaling can be used in a one-on-one session with a facilitator or parent, or, it can be used as a complement to a writing program in a classroom setting. It begins with a comical story which entertains with a rhythmic flair gently leading the young child into an extension of their understanding of experiences without risk of failure. Prompts are included to focus the child on who, what, when, where, and how types of details. It continuous to give the young child opportunities to anticipate and to problem-solve. The original book yields a smaller personal version of the original book that the child can read and reread independently from pictures they have drawn after having read or after having the story read to them. Lastly, the original book also yields a 7-day journal that the child can complete at a later time. In teaching kindergartners for over three decades, I have found that journaling naturally blossoms from the young child's expression of their understanding through drawing.
