Addendum to USACHPPM Report No. 47-MA-08PV-08 AFIOH Report No. IOH-RS-BR-TR-2008-0001, May 08 (2) USACHPPM USAFSAM Response. (a) The error in the initial draft dioxin results was due to the underlying calculation method programmed into the laboratory sample calculation database. The database had been programmed to calculate concentrations based on an input of dioxin mass in nanograms (ng). However, the analytical method used by the laboratory generated dioxin mass data in picograms (pg). The database accepted that input as though it was in ng, and since 1 ng equals 1,000 pg, the database calculated the dioxin concentrations at 1,000 times higher than the actual values. The database coding was corrected, and all other calculation algorithms for other parameters were verified for their accuracy. The corrected database was then used to regenerate the dioxin...
