Reviews

A really great publication with lucid and perfect reasons. I have read through and i am confident that i am going to gonna read yet again yet again down the road. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

RareBooksClub. Paperback. Book Condition: New. This item is printed on demand. Paperback. 42 pages. Original publisher: Washington, D. C. : U. S. Commission on Civil Rights, 2007 OCLC Number: (OCoLC)299160170 Subject: Children of migrant laborers -- Education -- Florida. Excerpt: . . . 19 percent of the population Latino. The school district has an enrollment of nearly 40, 000, and Latinos are nearly 40 percent of total enrollment - twice their percentage of the general population in the county, and migrant children are more than 12 percent of total 20 enrollment. The disparity is likely due to the large migrant population living in the interior part of the county away from the coast, Imakolee being the largest of these towns. St. Lucie County is located in the central and eastern part of Florida. It is a 21 relatively small county, and the 2000 census reported less than 200, 000 residents. The St. Lucie County School District operates 43 schools with a total enrollment of 22 approximately 33, 000 students. Almost all adult Latinos in the county are migrant workers, and they are about 10 percent of the general population in the county; proportionately similar, migrant children comprise about 12 percent of total district enrollment. Hillsborough County is located along the Gulf Coast in west central Florida, and includes the City of Tampa. The 2000 census reported almost one million persons living 23 in the county, with 18 percent of the population Latino. The Hillsborough County School District is one of the largest districts in the state with 237 schools and a total enrollment of about 182, 000 students. Though whites are the largest racial group of students, Latinos are more than one-fourth of the districts total enrollment with the 24 migrant student population about 2 percent. Dade County is located...
