The oldest formation forms the border of the lava series and inside of this successively younger flows outcrop, the latest in the center. Local faulting and sheets of outwash deposits have somewhat obscured these relations in places. The Antelope Range lavas occupy a broad syncline pitching to the northeast, while those of the Swett Hills and Harmony Mountains have a general eastward dip and are not folded. PETROGRAPHY. Early trachyte.--The rocks of the early trachyte bed differ considerably in texture in different parts of the district as well as in different parts of the series. The color and mineralogical character, however, remain the same throughout the district. In general the rocks are dark and dense with few phenocrysts, principally feldspar, subordinate biotite. In the Antelope Range, where it is typically exposed, the main part of the formation is a dense dark-red or...
