McLeod, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia. By Mr. Vreeland: Q. What is your position A. I am general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Q. Are you located here A. I am located here. Q. Where is the home office of your bank A. The home office is at Halifax; the executive is here. Q. You would regard this as a better point from which to view the whole field than the home office, Halifax A. It is more central. Q. Is it the practice of any of the other banks to have managers resident near the center of business A. No; it is not a general practice. We have interests in the West, interests in the United States, and it was found that Halifax was a point from which it was rather difficult to communicate promptly...

Very good e-book and valuable one. It can be written in basic words and phrases and not confusing. You will not really feel monotony at whenever you want of your own time (that's what catalogues are for concerning should you check with me).
