Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Administration s Budget Proposals: Hearing Before the Committee on the Budget, House of Representatives, One Hundred Fourth Congress, First Session, Hearing Held in Washington, DC, August 3, 1995 The committee met, pursuant to notice, at 10:40 a. m., in room 210, Cannon House Office Building, Hon. John R. Kasich, (chairman of the committee) presiding. Chairman Kasich. The committee will come to order. I want to welcome this morning the Director of CBO, June O Neill, Dr. O Neill, and what we are really interested in doing this morning, Doctor, is to hear from the Congressional Budget Office, the official scorekeeper of our actions up here. And I say that sometimes we like your scorekeeping results and sometimes we do not. Unfortunately when I one time expressed what I did not like about it, we had a meeting with you 15 minutes later, so we want to hear your view on the President s budget. Frankly, the reason why I wanted to have the hearing is that when the President s proposal emerged I was under the belief that it, in fact, was going to be CBO scored. And then very soon afterwards, of course, we asked you to analyze that budget, and then you came back and you showed $200 billion deficits in the budget, which I was very disappointed in. Because the people who told me that this was a serious proposal were people that I happen to personally like. So I was stunned, to tell you the truth, that this was not CBO scored. And then, oh, I guess a couple of weeks later we had gone through some discussion about the...
