ASIAS NAVAL EXPANSION AN ARMS RACE IN THE MAKING ADELPHI SERIES BOOK 432

Paperback. Condition: New. 112 pages. Asias naval expansion: An arms race in the making by Geoffrey Till. The Asia-Pacific region is likely to be the fulcrum of international security affairs in the twenty-first century. As the regions economies become stronger, defence budgets are rising and navies are expanding and modernising. Some aspects of this procurement drive show signs of actionreaction dynamics between peer competitors the hallmark of an arms race. Is the Asia-Pacific on the brink of an outright naval arms race, that could entail vast expenditures, threaten regional security and severely disrupt global trade Or can rising naval capabilities and a desire for prestige among regional powers be reconciled with economic interdependence, freedom of navigation and managed competition between great powersThis Adelphi analyses the naval expansion of the four major Asia-Pacific powers the US, China, India and Japan. It looks at recent and planned procurement to find examples of actionreaction behaviour, and analyses the underlying tensions and the potential for competition. It offers an insight into the size, expenditure and capability of the naval forces in each country and the role of the navy in overall military strategy; examines naval philosophies and specific security concerns, and how these will influence decision-making; and assesses how each nations naval strategy is evolving in response not only to global threats, but to shifts in the regional power balance. This item ships from multiple locations. Your book may arrive from Roseburg,OR, La Vergne,TN. Paperback.
