THE IMPACT OF THE COMMON AGRICULTURAL POLICY ON FOOD PRICES

Condition: New. Publisher/Verlag: VDM Verlag Dr. Müller | Consequences for Sub-Saharan Africa | The agricultural sector is the most protected sector within the European Union. Although European farmers receive significant sums of subsidies each year in order to protect them from global competition and to ensure their survival in a changing market, fluctuating food prices regularly represent an issue for controversy. As a result, the agricultural budget is constantly inflating. How does the Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) of the European Union effect food prices and what are the consequences...

An extremely awesome publication with lucid and perfect explanations. It is actually written in basic phrases rather than confusing. You will like how the writer publishes this book.
