Fake fur, also known as faux fur, is a classic favorite and a wonderful alternative to the look and feel of the real thing. But even expert sewers avoid creating anything with fake fur--some say it's tricky to work with. Well, they probably haven't worked with instructor extraordinaire Kenneth D. King. See why he truly is the King of sewing instruction! Kenneth is a contributing editor at Threads magazine, couture fashion designer, author, instructor at The Fashion Institute of Technology in New York, and a respected sewing authority. In his Smart Sewing with Fake Fur 99-minute video, Kenneth demystifies the process of sewing synthetic fur. During the course of his career, Kenneth began to work with fake fur after remodeling a variety of real fur coats. Taking apart these fur coats enabled him to study the techniques that furriers use to construct them. Surprised at how simple these techniques were, he then experimented with them on fake fur, resulting in an excellent effect. These are the tips and tricks he brings to you in the Smart Sewing with Fake Fur DVD. Learn the secrets to creating less expensive, more socially responsible fur garments that are trending right now.
