We might begin this story of Susy Parlin on a New Years day, only it is so hard to skip over Christmas. There is such a charm about Christmas! It makes you think at once of a fir tree shining with little candles and sparkling with toys, or of a droll Santa Claus with a pack full of presents, or of a waxen angel called the Christ-child. And it is just as well to date from the twenty-fifth of December, because, as Christ was born on Christmas day, that is really the Happy New Year. For a long while the three little Parlin girls had been thinking and dreaming of presents. Susys wise head was like a beehive, full of little plans and little fancies, which were flying about like bees, and buzzing in everybodys ears. But it may be as well to give you a short description of the Parlin family. Susys eyes were of an evening blue, the very color of the sky in a summer night; good eyes, for they were as clear as a well which has the truth lying at the bottom of it. She was almost as nimble as a squirrel, and could face a northern snow storm like an engineer. Her hair was dark brown, and as smooth and straight as pine-needles; while Prudys fair hair rippled like a brook running over pebbles. Prudys face was sunny, and her mouth not much larger than a button-hole. This item ships from La Vergne, TN. Paperback.
