Excerpt from Life and Letters of Sir Hubert Herkomer: A Study in Struggle and Success Hubert may have inherited his complexion, much of his temperament and also his musical taste from his mother, but it was from the paternal side that he derived his faculty in art and craftsmanship and technical invention. His grandfather was by trade a plasterer (m aurer), but he was far more than a merely mechanical workman. He had strong artistic instincts as well as a decided gift of invention, which he improved in the making of ingenious locks and other contrivances of a practical and domestic character. From the grandfather probably dated the ambition of building a great house, a monument of the family skill in various arts, which was realized many years later, not in native Bavaria but in the little Hertfordshire village which from its meadows and woodlands sees the lights of London like a dreary dawn on the midnight sky.
