My teeth chattered so that I feared the noise would be audible, and I had been just in time, as, laughing and talking, the officers were approaching down the hall! As I sat huddled in my corner I perceived that they had some huge joke among them. They were walking slowly, and I heard distinctly what passed. The idea of Tillinghast forgetting the countersign strikes me as being grand, exclaimed some one, with a guffaw at the end of the sentence. Ha! ha! ha! laughed another. I told you it was the author of Robinson Crusoe, Tilly. Why, confound it all! I always thought that he himself wrote the book, roared a deep bass. I recognized the speaker as one of the young lieutenants of the garrison--it was his clothes, by-the-way, that I had on my back at the moment. I think the governor chose it for a play on words, quoth another. A poor pun, even for him. Why we should require a password at all is more than I can see, responded Tillinghast. Come down to my quarters, Carntyne. We have time for a hand of whist. They passed on. I waited a few minutes, putting two and two together, and suddenly it came to me. / had the password at the tip of my tongue! Hastily rising, I stepped outside of the room. It was but a few yards to the bottom of the stairs,...
