Bottom of the Hill Publishing, 2011. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .I.N.R.I. is an acronym of the Latin inscription IESVS-NAZARENVS-REX-IVDAEORVM (Iesus Nazarenus, Rex Iudaeorum), which translates to English as Jesus the Nazarene (Galilean), King of the Jews (Judeans). In the Gospel of John (19:19-20), the inscription is explained: And Pontius Pilate wrote a title, and put it on the cross. And the writing was JESUS OF NAZARETH THE KING OF THE JEWS. This title then read many of the Jews: for the place where Jesus was crucified was nigh to the city: and it was written in Hebrew, and Greek, and Latin. (King James Version) According to all four Gospels, Pilate challenged Jesus to deny that he was the King of the Jews and Jesus did not deny the accusation. According to John, the chief priests asked Pilate to change the inscription so that it did not say the King of the Jews, but rather, This man said he was the King of the Jews, but Pilate refused to change it, saying, What I have written, I have written. Peter Rosegger was an Austrian poet from the province of Styria. He was a son of a farmer and grew up in the forests and fields. Rosegger went on to become a most productive poet and author as well as an insightful teacher and visionary. In his later years, he was honored by officials from various Austrian universities and the city of Graz (the capital of Styria). He was nearly awarded the Nobel Prize in 1913 and is (at least among the people of Styria) something like a national hero to this day.
