Suzanne Perkins Newman FounderCEO AnswersForElders. com Throughout the United States there are roughly 38 million Americans over the age of 65, and there are forecast to be approximately 88 million by 2050. Over 70 of couples over age 65 will need some kind of long-term care during their lifetime. But many people fail to consider their future properly, including the possibility of incurring illnesses, losing independence, and how they want to be cared for. Families are often unprepared when an event occurs like a stroke or chronic illness. This book provides you information on a broad scope of needs and options as regards the natural progression of aging. In addition, and more importantly, it will heighten your awareness while also simplifying what can be very overwhelming, at first glance. We will guide you through the ways to start planning for the care of a family...
