Birds of the Yare Valley is a concise site-guide to one of the richest birdwatching regions of the United Kingdom. Profusely illustrated and with easy-to read access maps, this book tells you when and where to find over 250 of East Norfolk s stunning bird species. David Bryant s interest in birds and other wildlife started over fifty years ago: he and his wife Linda travelled thousands of miles around the UK building up life-lists of over 400 species, before giving up serious twitching to concentrate on birds within twenty miles of their front door. Luckily, the front door in question is located within one of the most productive birding regions of Norfolk: their over the garden list includes Hen Harrier, Osprey and Caspian Tern! The book includes advice on taking better wildlife photos, a bird checklist, accurate directions and car parking details.
